

The Story of Sleeping Beauty

King Florestan and his Queen have invited the Fairies to the christening of the infinite Princess Aurora. Unfortunately, they have forgotten to invite the Fairy Carabosse. Nevertheless, she arrives, thoroughly outraged, as the Fairies are bestowing their magical gifts. Fairy Carabosse announces that on the day of Princess Aurora's 16th birthday, she will prick her finger and die. Luckily, the Lilac Fairy still has her own gift to bestow, and she vows that Aurora shall not die but will instead fall into a deep sleep, to be awakened after a hundred years by a prince's kiss. To protect Aurora, the King destroys all of the sharp objects in the kingdom and sends Aurora to live in the forest with the Fairies.

On Princess Aurora's 16th birthday, all of Aurora's friends bring roses to give to her. During the festivities, an old woman presents Aurora with a rose. Hidden inside the rose is a spindle and Aurora pricks her finger. The old woman throws back her cloak, revealing that she is Fairy Carabosse. The Lilac Fairy fulfills her promise to protect the princess and she casts a spell of sleep over the kingdom.

One hundred years later, the young Prince Desire is shown a vision of a sleeping Princess Aurora. The Lilac Fairy takes him to the palace. Outside the palace gates they encounter Fairy Carabosse and the Lilac Fairy banishes her from the kingdom. Desire finds the Sleeping Beauty and awakens her with true love's kiss – the magic spell is broken. Aurora and Desire are married in a lavish celebration as the whole kingdom rejoices. Prince Desire and Princess Aurora live happily ever after.
